

Welcome to January 2021

Astrologically, January looks to be an intense and dynamic month and is literally an invitation to be the change that we wish to see in the world!

During January the expansive and encouraging energy of Jupiter and the firm and structured energy of Saturn, who has been calling us to re-structure over the past 18 months, both now journeying through Aquarius, will square up to the energy of Uranus, the great awakener and bringer of sudden changes.

The energy of the New Moon on the 13th in Capricorn holds this intense encounter with added fire from the warrior planet of Mars, aligning beautifully with this month's Oracle Cards of Leadership, and Choices and Decisions. This stunning duo give a very clear indication of how best to harness the astro-energy this month, particularly when setting our New Moon wishes, dreams and intentions.

Our Runes this month, of Hagalaz, the Rune of Disruption and Kano, the Rune of Openings combine with the messages in these cards, inviting us to align our thoughts, words and actions with all that we wish to see and manifest in the world, acknowledging that our free will and conscious choice holds the key to our personal empowerment within a changing world. We hold this vision as the Sun enters Aquarius on the 19th.

As we move through January the energy intensifies, culminating with the Full Moon in Leo on the 28th, when Uranus the great awakener aligns with Mars, the masculine Warrior Planet and also Lilith, whose energy shows us our vulnerabilities and connects us to those deep desires that we often struggle to openly acknowledge. We also simultaneously enter the Mercury Retrograde shadow. (for detailed information on Mercury in Retrograde see page 24)

This collaboration suggests situations that will highlight and bring to our awareness any personal issues that we need to address to bring our own pathway into alignment with the greater collective vision of the future, and also any global changes that need to be made, with an invitation for us each to use ourselves as a source of empowerment and to act for the good of the whole, rather than simply focusing on our individual needs.

The Rune of Hagalaz speaks of disruption aligned with a greater purpose, suggesting circumstances that create an awakening, either personally or globally or both. The greater the disruption, the more necessary it is for your personal growth and evolution.

Leadership

30

We all lead by example,
our words and actions presenting a role model to everyone that we come into contact with.
This card asks you to take an ownership of your personal leadership qualities and to align your thoughts, words and actions with everything that you wish to see in the world.

Additional messages and guidance.

This card invites you to be the change you wish to see in the world. Align yourself with your true core values and step into the greatest version of you in every aspect of your world. By demonstrating your core values in everything that you do, in your thoughts, in your words, and in your actions, you provide a role model to others.

If this card is drawn in response to a specific question which involves you stepping into a position of greater leadership, this card is here to validate your leadership qualities and encourage you to move forwards with confidence.

The Rune of Kano speaks of renewed clarity, clear intentions and an opening that enables mutual growth in relationships through awareness and understanding. It often suggests that we will be shown some aspect of our lives that was previously hidden from view that needs to change.

Choices and Decisions

The choices that we make today are defining the shape of our tomorrow and so it is hardly surprising that we sometimes worry about making the right decisions.

Do not shroud your mind in the fog of uncertainty. Just as you have choices today, you also have choices tomorrow, and the day after...

Be assured, you can always change course again.

Additional messages and guidance.

Do you overburden yourself in the process of making decisions, creating an internal stream of thoughts that try to anticipate every potential outcome for fear of making the wrong choice?

In truth, there is no such thing as a wrong choice or a wrong decision. None of us can actually know how something will be until we get there and try it on for size! This is how we learn and grow and discover the things that work for us, as well as the things that do not, helping us to find clarity in our future decisions and choices. An essential part of the process of manifestation.
