

14th June Sunday Rune and Card Reading

This week three very powerful natural rocks and crystals called to be used in our readings.

Reading no. 1 – A Natural Flint Heart

In reading number one, I was drawn to a beautifully naturally heart shaped piece of Flint.

Flint has been used as a talisman and as a stone of protection. Is said to encourage strength, not only physically but also psychologically and emotionally. It's powerful energy can be used to earth us during times of accelerated growth and transition, keeping us grounded and able to stay on course during times of change.

Is said to help us to hold the bigger picture in mind simultaneously keeping us grounded and able to take right action, as such it is an ally to the Spiritual Warrior.

Reading no. 2 - Angelite

In reading number two, I was drawn to Angelite.

Angelite is said to facilitate the rebirthing process by opening the way for spiritual inspiration. Bringing deep feelings of peace and tranquillity its energy opens up an opportunity for psychic channelling connecting us to a higher vision and a greater universal consciousness.

Reading no. 3 – Blue Calcite

In reading number three I was drawn to the energy of Blue Calcite. This powerful little rock is said to soothe frayed nerves and lessen anxiety. It's gentle and penetrating energy clears negativity through the encouragement of rest and relaxation. Is said to work with the third eye bringing great insight and awareness to any areas of our health and well-being that we are in need of attending to.
